DETAILED ACTION

This is the Final Office Action for application number 10/584,873 DEVICE FOR HOLDING AT LEAST TWO OBLONG ARTICLES, filed on 7/25/07. Claims 10-19 are pending. This Final Office Action is in response to applicant's reply dated 5/20/08. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Applicant's amendment necessitated any new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Claims 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by United States Patent No. 6371419 to Ohnuki.

Ohnuki discloses a device (2) for holding at least two oblong articles having a receiving part (1) having an open side for the introduction of the articles and a closed side which encloses a receiving space for receiving the articles, the receiving part having an abutment section (14) on which the first article introduced into the receiving part engages; spring elements (18, 17) connected with the receiving part for fixing the articles in the receiving space, one of the spring elements being configured as a locking tongue (10) moveable transversely to the longitudinal direction of the receiving part between a rest position and a deflected position, the locking tongue comprising a free end having a bent receiving section (18) for receiving the first article; and an articulating element (17) between the receiving section and the open side of the receiving part, the articulating element protruding into the receiving space when the locking flange is in the rest position; wherein introduction of the first article into the receiving portion displaces the free end of the locking tongue into the deflected position when the articulating element contacts the first article; wherein further introduction of the article into the receiving portion causes the first article to rest on the abutment section, the receiving section engaging the first article such that the locking tongue returns to, and becomes locked in, the rest position, the articulating element being arranged between two areas of the receiving space that each receive one of the articles, wherein the side of the receiving section facing the first article is configured in accordance with the abutment section and wherein the articulating element exhibits a front section and a back section that come together in a break region that projects into the receiving space and at least one additional spring element that lies opposite the articulating element which is configured as a counter- tongue with a projection that lies opposite the most raised region of the articulating element, wherein the articulating element, when locked in the rest position, prevents the second article from contacting the first article.

Response to Arguments

The applicant's argument are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection above.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
